COVID-19 Resources for International Students
The COVID-19 pandemic is impacting immigration processes and policies worldwide as new measures are being implemented and existing ones are changing each day. The internal and external resources below have been specifically curated to provide international students a list of resources that contain the latest immigration updates in order to remain informed during this fluid situation.

Internal:

Office of International Affairs (OIA)
If you have questions about CPT/OPT due to COVID-19, please see contact OIA for the most recent information. See OIA’s list of updated advising services and frequently asked questions.
https://oia.osu.edu/international-students/5637-new-guidelines-for-advising.html

External:

Department of Homeland Security (DHS)
The DHS is responsible for ensuring the safety and security of the U.S. Learn more about DHS’ response to COVID-19 in the weekly COVID-19 updates.
https://www.dhs.gov/coronavirus

Study in the States
A website that offers free government resources that explains the rules and regulations governing the international student process in the U.S. Review the COVID-19 related information and resources to keep up on recent processes and regulations for studying in the U.S.
https://studyinthestates.dhs.gov/

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS)
The USCIS is the government agency that regulates the country’s naturalization and immigration system. Check the USCIS website for updated filing and application information. Click here to subscribe for COVID-19 news and alerts.
http://www.uscis.gov/